Building European Innovation and Technology Cooperations

We help you to find the right research, technology and business partners.

Linked locally – globally connected

The Enterprise Europe Network with its 600 partner organisations supports the competitiveness and innovation of companies and establishes transnational cooperations in over 60 countries, Business-to-Business as well as Business-to-Academia.

Find valuable technology partners

Identify new cooperation partners with our online database of over 1200 technology profiles and discover the multitude of technology transfer or research funding opportunities across Europe and the largest markets globally.

“Thanks to an EEN research ‘partner search’ profile I have found two SMEs, one in Germany one in The Netherlands, for a successful European funding application.”

Francesca Faraci,
PhD, SUPSI

“In the EEN database, we identified a very interesting business opportunity in line with our activities. The contact led to one Eurostars project allowing us to hire new people.”

Daniel Fitzgerald,
CEO, Geneva Biotech

“Thanks to the EEN network, Parquery was able to find international business partners in an efficient way. After publishing a partner search in the Network database, we received multiple contacts that we could quickly check to identify the most promising ones.”
